Scholarships for Military Children Program Makes Straight “A”s

Submitted By: Rollin Bright, Store Director, Area IV

The Scholarships for Military Children program is scoring a 4.0 in its sophomore year. Five hundred and twenty military children have earned $1,500 scholarships worldwide to help them “combat” the higher cost of education in the fall of 2002. “I’m delighted to announce that the number of scholarships going to outstanding students in 2002 exceeds last year’s total by 30 percent,” says Defense Commissary Agency (DeCA) Director, Air Force Major General Robert J. Courter Jr. “We couldn’t be happier with the positive response to the program, the growth of the program, and the caliber of both the applicants and recipients.”

The community was really enthusiastic about the scholarship program,” said Rollin Bright, Store Director Area IV Commissaries.

Scholarship recipients for Area IV DeCA Commissaries are Kathleen Noble of Camp Carroll, Angela Hamilton of Taegu, and Jonathan Edwards of Pusan.

The students have received certificates in honor of their selection as Defense Commissary Agency/Fisher House Foundation scholars during a ceremony for the event.
